

Vacancy Sales Employee

You welcome all our customers with a smile! As a sales employee you are the face of the store, you have a listening ear for all our customers and are willing to go the extra mile to make the customer happy. Are you that cheerful sales employee who will join our team at TRI-BIKE ARUBA? Then quickly read this vacancy!

What may your working day look like?

At 8.40 AM you walk into the store, because at 8.45 AM we kick off with our daily team huddle. After that the manager goes through the Daily Task List with the sales team, before you'll open the store at 9.00 AM.

The first customer comes into the store and after a warm welcome you know in no time which bike the customer is looking for. You determine the correct frame size together with the customer and immediately check whether the bike is in stock. Together with your colleagues from the service center, you check what day the bike will be ready to be picked up.

No new customer in the store? No problem! You still had plenty of ideas to make the swimming department even more attractive for when a new customer comes in. You'll check the price tags, ensure that everything looks great, and you keep up with your professional knowledge in Trek University. You understand that sales is not just a sales pitch.

Before you know, the next customer comes in looking for running shoes. You perform a foot fitting and advise the right size and model HOKA running shoes for the customer.

When the shop is closed, you clean up the counter and check the cash register. Then you go back home with a satisfied feeling!

What do we ask from you?

- You treat customers the way you want to be treated yourself;
- You share our passion for swimming, cycling and running;
- You are service-oriented and think in solutions;
- You are motivated to broaden your knowledge through Trek University training;
- You have an eye for detail;
- You are available during the weekends and possibly during shopping evenings and holidays;
- You just want to be one step better tomorrow than today!

What do we offer you?

- A salary that is based on your experience level, educational attainment and motivation;
- A contract for 40 hours a week;
- Personal development through training and/or courses;
- A company where you work together with other sports enthusiasts;
- Very cool products to sell and you get a discount on those!
